Tri-County Scholarship Fund Freedom Scholars

What is the Freedom Scholars Program?

It is a program geared to high school students of financial need and significant academic achievement and potential. It's a partnership between schools, families and Tri-County Scholarship Fund (TCSF). Freedom Scholars benefit from having the bulk of their tuition paid. TCSF and the participating schools each contribute the same amount annually (just under half the tuition cost). Students' families pay the remainder. The program is for graduating 8th graders.

Expectations and Benefits of being a Freedom Scholar

Freedom Scholars exhibit high achievement: a B average or better is the norm both in 8th grade and throughout high school. Emphasis is also placed on attendance, homework, participation, service and general good behavior. In each high school, Freedom Scholars have a designated mentor, a senior staff or faculty member, who meets with them monthly. In addition, tutoring is available to all Freedom Scholars along with college testing preparation in junior year and college essay preparation in senior year. Top TCSF scholars have been awarded full tuition scholarships to Colgate, Cornell, Villanova, UCLA, Rutgers, Georgetown, Notre Dame and the University of Pennsylvania.
